PIONEER ALOX BLACK

Due to a large number of customer requests, we have decided to take this Pioneer black model into our standard assortment. Its casing in black anodized aluminum and the red/white cross & shield make a combination that has not been produced very often by Victorinox in the past.

Victorinox has transformed this classic into a special collectors item for its fans, without taking away from its functionality. The Pioneer black is one of the many products that Victorinox is turning into something extraordinary.
